Work-Life Balance

How do I keep work sustainable alongside health and family?

Read from: Moon (supporting significator of work-life balance); Mercury (12th lord); Saturn (natural significator of career); Jupiter (occupant of the 12th house)

Moon — supporting significator of work-life balance · Capricorn, 7th house

Moon is a significator of work-life balance, a part of your career; here it stands for public-facing work, hospitality, healthcare, food, nursing and travel. As your supporting significator of work-life balance, placed in Capricorn in the 7th house, it brings work through partners, clients, trade and contracts; business or consulting suits you. Moon is in a neutral sign with a strength of 4.5/10 for your work-life balance (Neutral sign, angular house, pressure from Saturn). Moon shares the 7th house with Saturn and Ascending Lunar Node (Dragon's Head), so their results mix for your work-life balance. For your work-life balance, Moon gives results slowly and with some effort.

When: Moon's next period for your work-life balance is Jupiter–Moon (28 Jan 2039 – 29 May 2040) — mixed: steady progress; avoid abrupt resignations.

Mercury — 12th lord · Aries, 10th house

Mercury is in a neutral sign with a strength of 6.5/10 for your work-life balance (Neutral sign, angular house, retrograde). For your work-life balance, Mercury points to communication, IT, accounts, trade, writing, analysis and teaching and works well with steady effort.

When: Mercury's next period for your work-life balance is Jupiter–Mercury (29 May 2032 – 4 Sep 2034) — good for building skills, visibility and income.

Saturn — natural significator of career · Capricorn, 7th house

Saturn is a natural significator of career; for your work-life balance it stands for large organisations, manufacturing, labour, mining, law and long public service. Saturn is in its own sign with a strength of 9/10 for your work-life balance (Own sign, angular house, retrograde, support from Moon, pressure from Ascending Lunar Node (Dragon's Head)). Saturn shares the 7th house with Moon and Ascending Lunar Node (Dragon's Head), so their results mix for your work-life balance. For your work-life balance, Saturn is a strong support you can build on.

When: Saturn's next period for your work-life balance is Jupiter–Saturn (16 Nov 2029 – 29 May 2032) — strong window for promotion, a new role or launching your own work.

Jupiter — occupant of the 12th house · Gemini, 12th house

Jupiter sits in your 12th house, the house of expenses, foreign work, back-office roles, retreat and losses. Here in Gemini it draws work toward foreign companies, hospitals, export, research or behind-the-scenes roles; watch expenses. Jupiter is in an enemy's sign with a strength of 2/10 for your work-life balance (Enemy's sign, difficult house). For your work-life balance, Jupiter points to teaching, law, finance, advisory, banking and counselling and needs care: expect delays here and plan around them.

When: Jupiter's next period for your work-life balance is Jupiter (29 Sep 2027 – 16 Nov 2029) — consolidate: protect your position and avoid new debt or risky moves.
